Airport

that airport instead of the Cleveland Airport.

In other business, F. Wayne Fesemyer, chairman of the Authority, said he had contacted Bishop Alfred Watson of the Erie diocese with regard to disposition of certain church property in the Village of Lafayette that is required for the airport approach Lighting System. The lighting system has been installed for some months, but the local priest and his committee have been negotiating a final disposition price for the church building. The Authority made a final offer of $20,000 which was turned down by the church committee and Fesemyer notified the Bishop, in whose name the land and building is deeded. The local church's attorney, Robert Apple of Smethport, has advised them to accept the Authority's offer. Fesemyer said he would institute proceedings to secure a court order of condemnation on the property. The problem has been extant since 1969 and the delay is holding up some payments of federal monies to the Authority. If the church group accepts the $20,000 offer, they will have up to eight weeks to remove the building. If condemnation proceedings are gone into they will lose the building. The church has been declared a hazard to flight by the Federal Aviation Administration.

Ray Johnson, airport administrator, said he could secure limousine service from Bradford to meet all Allegheny flights within the next month. The limousine fare would be $3 as compared to the present $7 taxi fare.
Robert Schwartz of the Pennsylvania Aeronautical Commission, said the Authority should immediately investigate the resurfacing of the secondary runway. He said the PAC had the job programmed into its 1973-74 program, but that the runway could not wait that long for resurfacing. He said the job would cost about $300,000 for a two-inch overlay of blacktop on the 4,500 foot by 100 foot wide runway. Cost would be divided as follows: fifty percent paid by the FFA, 25 percent each by the state and the Authority. Schwartz said the Authority could probably get Appalachia fund aid for the project which would cut down the financial cost to the Authority to about $37,500.
Fesemyer suggested the Authority change its engineering consultant firm from Gannett, Fleming, Cordry and Carpenter to Yost Associates of DuBois, a suggestion made into a formal motion by Russell Weston of McKean County and the planning and engineering work will begin soon on the runway project.

Johnson also informed the Authority he had made arrangements to have the interior of the terminal building, walls and woodwork, repainted at a total cost of about $1,000 including labor and materials.

Judge Hears Motions In Two Cases

Judge Robert L. Wolfe heard motions in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Charles O'Dooley, accused murderer and arsonist, Wednesday morning.

A motion for a polygraph and truth serum was presented and the court ordered briefs to be filed. A second motion for the appointment of an expert investigator, was approved.

O'Dooley, 43, now in Warren County jail, is accused of murdering his wife and two children in a fire March 4 which destroyed their home along Conewango Creek. On July 17, 1971, he pleaded not guilty to three charges of arson and one count of arson.

The August grand jury returned a true bill of indictment on the charges. A third motion was filed in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Clair Schnars of Clarendon, the motion being for a new trial and arrest of judgment. Schnars, accused of soliciting and attempting to commit sodomy, was found guilty in an April jury trial. Action on the motion was continued.

Boro Police Investigate Two Accidents

Warren Borough police investigated two auto accidents Wednesday and reported a total property damage of $750.

At 11:34 a.m. a car operated by Evdokia Salaris, 22, of 159 Jefferson ave., Vandergrift, Pa., was traveling west on Pennsylvania ave. east and failed to stop and struck a car operated by P. V. Rockwell, 67, of 97 Mill st., Sheffield in the rear. The Rockwell car was stopped for a traffic light at the intersection with Marion st.

A passenger in the Salaris car, Victor Mathaou, 70, of Vandergrift, complained of some pain but was not taken to the hospital.

The second incident occurred at 4:12 p.m. when a car operated by George A. Reinhold, 45, of Box 122, Garland, was traveling west on Pennsylvania ave. west struck a car operated by James M. Keruen, 22, of 9 Jackson st., Warren, as it attempted to pull onto Pennsylvania ave. from Laurel st. Investigating officers blamed the accident on a tractor trailer rig that was parked too close to the intersection, blocking the driver's vision. No charges will be filed.

Police Sergeant Shot

Outside Precinct Station

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A man identified as a former mental patient shot a police sergeant outside a precinct station Wednesday, then was wounded himself in a blistering shootout with another officer, police said.

Both victims were in critical condition and under heavy guard at a city hospital. A third man who police said was an innocent bystander also was shot in the exchange, but was reported in good condition at another hospital.

The shootout occurred in the heart of the city's predominately Negro Hill District across the street from Precinct Station Two, but police said they did not know whether it was racially inspired.

Police Supt. Robert Colville said the shooting began after a sidewalk argument between the officer, Sgt. Harold Friedman, 47, a caucasian, and the alleged assailant, identified as John Mangham, 26, a black. Colville said he did not know what sparked the disagreement. He said Mangham had been released Aug. 20 from Mayview State Hospital in nearby Carnegie.

Colville gave this account of the shootings: Friedman, a desk sergeant, had just crossed the street in front of the precinct house and was walking toward a drug store when he was stopped by Mangham.

The argument followed, and as it grew more heated Mangham suddenly grabbed Friedman's service revolver and began striking Friedman with it. Friedman fell to the ground, and a shot followed. The bullet, fired at pointblank range,

August 28, it was unanimously decided to study the possibilities of issuing to a local collector a franchise for the area's solid waste collection before taking steps toward an alternate method, competitive bidding, for the collection.

Both methods were suggested at the meeting as the two principal possibilities of selecting collector services by George Atkin, Jr., Warren County Solid Waste Engineer and author of the Warren County Plan for solid waste collection.

Present at the meeting of the representatives from all the participating municipalities, except for Eldred Township, was Wayne Courson, collector in several of the municipalities at the present time. It was suggested that Courson obtain an attorney and proceed with framing a proposal for a franchise to the committee.

This step may tend to eliminate the speculation that an out of the area collection form would possibly be hired for future collection and dumping for the district.

It was further explained at the meeting, that each municipality would have to act independently in the final analysis of granting or not opposing a franchise, but that the district committee could handle all details and then make a recommendation to the various municipalities so that no conflict would exist.

Officers elected at the organizational meeting were as follows: chairman, Russell Peterson, an authority member, who will not vote except in the case of a tie; vice chairman, a Southwest Township representative not yet named; secretary, John Long, Limestone Township representative and treasurer, Fred Barr, Tidioute Borough representative.

It was agreed at the meeting to ask all participating municipalities for an initial $50 loan to handle organizational

Plant Emission Agreement

Reached Here

Warren Asphalt Products and the Tionesta plant of Interstate Amesite are among the asphalt producers who have agreed by next year to control the emission from their asphalt batch plants, according to Marvin Fein, special assistant attorney general.

The agreements were made with the Dept. of Environmental Resources after a meeting June 22, 1971 with the department's Air Pollution Bureau and Environmental Pollution Strike Force. At that time, the companies were informed of the applicable state standards which must be met and of the types of equipment which could be installed to meet the standards.

The department said Wednesday that they have entered into agreements with 16 asphalt producers in northwestern Pennsylvania.

The companies were given until Aug. 1, 1971 to sign an agreement with the Commonwealth binding them to install the equipment. They were told that all companies who had not agreed at that time would be faced with legal action. Signed agreements to install the proper equipment by next May were received from all the companies, Fein said.

Since the asphalt business is a seasonal one, Fein said, most of the companies are either not now in operation or are just concluding operations for this summer. These agreements assure that when the plant reopens next May, this industry's air pollution problems will be controlled in that region, he said.

A crowd of about 200-300 blacks gathered in front of the station house after the shooting, occasionally shouting obscenities, and police temporarily sealed off a four-block area around the site.

Later, however, they reported the situation under control and security was relaxed.

Car Strikes Pole

State police from the Warren Substation investigated an incident on Fladry Drive, Pleasant Twp. that occurred at 3:55 p.m. Wednesday.

According to the report, a car operated by David E. Baker of Irvine, crossed over the highway and struck a telephone pole causing $115 damage.

Enemy Gunners Stage Furious Rocket Barrage

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese gunners opened up with a furious rocket and mortar barrage Wednesday against a South Vietnamese armored column and five bases along the demilitarized zone.

It was the heaviest shelling since mid-August on the inflamed northern front.

Countering the shelling, U.S. forces bombarded North Vietnamese positions from the land, sea and air.

The South Vietnamese reported only light casualties but braced for more attacks.

Officers said enemy forces may repeat the bombardments Thursday and Friday to mark two North Vietnamese anniversaries. The first on Thursday is National Day and the other on Friday is the second anniversary of the death of President Ho Chi Minh.

The North Vietnamese gunners struck within a three-hour span from mid-morning till midday.

The largest of the six attacks was a 500-round rocket and mortar bombardment of a South Vietnamese unit of tanks and armored personnel carriers.

The shelling against the bases were 20 rounds or less each. Field reports said no South Vietnamese were killed but six were wounded.

A dozen B52 bombers, in the 11th straight day of saturation raids, hammered North Vietnamese emplacements just south of the DMZ and in the southern half of the once-neutral buffer zone.

Three U.S. warships shelled the North Vietnamese from offshore and American artillery joined the bombardment from positions south of the zone.

In the 24 hours before the North Vietnamese opened up, battle action had fallen off sharply. The South Vietnamese command reported only 11 enemy-initiated attacks in this period, far below the widespread attacks over last weekend before and during South Vietnam's National Assembly elections.

Barron Talks On Drug Abuse, Symptoms

Nineteen persons, all instructors in advanced first aid classes in the Warren County chapter of the American Red Cross, Wednesday evening heard Sgt. George J. Barron of the Pennsylvania State Police lecture on drug abuse and recognition of symptoms of drug abusers. He told the group that as of now all advanced first aid classes would include this training.

The sergeant, who has been a volunteer consultant to the Red Cross for 14 years and who is now in charge of the Tionesta substation, advised the group that the greatest number of drug abusers come from the upper middle income brackets and higher, not from the lower income or slum area dwellers as is popularly supposed.

He said there is an estimated $50 billion a year profit from drugs in this country, and that there are between 45,000 and 60,000 narcotic addicts in the country and some 5,000 in Pennsylvania.

The sergeant briefly described the treatment given drug addicts at the two federal drug hospitals at Lexington, Ky. and Ft. Worth, Tex. He said the first five days are spent on withdrawal—cold turkey—and the following 135 days on psychiatric treatment. He added that less than 10 per cent of addicts are fully cured.

Several times Sgt. Barron stressed that many symptoms of drug users are quite similar to symptoms displayed by persons affected otherwise and he told them they should not automatically assume drug abuse when certain symptoms are exhibited.

He congratulated Walter Stephenson, who is first aid chairman of the Warren County chapter, for the thoroughness of his instruction courses. Stephenson is also safety director at National Forge.

The sergeant burned several wafers of synthetic marijuana to acquaint the group with the distinctive odor of the real drug and distributed copies of a Red Cross pamphlet entitled "Drugs And Their Abuse."

Special Registration Scheduled

Eighteen members of the League of Women Voters of Warren area will conduct a special registration day for new voters next Wednesday, September 8, at the Warren post office. The women were officially authorized to serve as deputy registrars for the one-day event, after attending a training workshop at the county courthouse, conducted by chief county registrar Mrs. Barbara Walker.

All volunteered for the assignment, and were approved by the county commissioners and local party chairmen. The project is part of a concentrated statewide LWV effort to encourage all eligible Pennsylvania residents to register and vote in the forthcoming election, on November 3.

By arrangement with postmaster Frank Fago, a booth will be set up in the lobby of the Warren post office. Registration will begin at 8 a.m. and continue until 7:30 p.m. All citizens who will be 18 or older on or before November 3 and who have lived in Pennsylvania for more than 90 days (that is, since before August 4, 1971) are eligible to register and vote.

Naturalized citizens must present their naturalization papers, when registering. County residents who have moved to a new county voting district since the last election must fill out and sign a new address card, and may do this at the special registration booth.

Any who have not voted since 1968 must re-register in order to vote again. Recently married women must complete and sign change-of-name cards, and, if necessary, change-of-address cards.

Newly-enfranchised young people between the ages of 18 and 21 are especially encouraged to take advantage of the convenient special registration booth.

The aim of the project is to make registration as easy as possible, by, in effect, taking the registration service to the people. It supplements the regular registration facility at the court house, which continues to be available daily, during business hours, until September 13.

The project is the first of its kind promoted by the local LWV, and is part of the non-partisan group's continuing program of education and community service. All who take advantage of the special registration booth will be given a complimentary copy of the League's new Know Your County booklet, a pamphlet detailing absentee ballot procedures, and a current government directory.

A special window display promoting the project, will be featured at Levinson's department store. The League will follow up with a booth at the Warren Sidewalk Festival Days, September 17 and 18, at which the use of a voting booth will be demonstrated.

Members serving as deputy registrars at the special registration booth in the post office next Wednesday will be: Mrs. Allen Anderson, Mrs. Larry Boutelle, Mrs. Eugene Cease, Mrs. Richard Day, Mrs. R. Pierson Eaton, Mrs. F. W. Emhart, Mrs. John Fanaritis, Mrs. Paul Gary, Mrs. J.B.

Hofer, Mrs. Robert Hedrick, Mrs. William Mader, Mrs. Keith McIntosh, Mrs. B.J. Messerly, Mrs. J. William Peterson, Mrs. M.D. Rhodes, Mrs. W.J. Sedwick, Mrs. Harry Segel and Mrs. Carl J. Tonkin.

TRAINING WORKSHOP HELD

Mrs. Barbara Walker, county registrar, conducted a training workshop on Wednesday for members of the League of Women Voters of Warren Area. The women will serve as volunteer registrars at a special all-day registration session for new county voters next Wednesday, September 8, at the Warren post office. Some of the group are pictured studying official registration forms. (Photo by Mansfield)

Nine GIs Return To Vietnam To Donate Labor For Homes

SAIGON (AP) — The nine ex-GIs wanted to prove something to themselves and their American neighbors—"that all Vietnam veterans aren't potheads, smack freaks and radical peaceniks."

They returned to Vietnam to do manual labor without pay. Some were doves and some were hawks. The only thing they had in common was that they had shared the same war.

"It was a constant source of amazement even to us," says one of the nine, Armistead Maupin Jr.

A former Navy lieutenant of 27, Maupin was working as a reporter for the Charleston (S.C.) News and Courier when a friend asked him to do publicity releases for Veterans Against the War. It was the time of the May Day demonstrations and Maupin swiftly became disillusioned:

"In their desire to end the war at any cost, a lot of people appeared to be trying to portray all veterans as scagheads and radicals, apparently hoping to use this as a lever against the administration. It seemed all wrong and I wanted to do something about it."

Maupin wrote to Adm. Elmo R. Zumwalt, the chief of naval operations: "I'll find the veterans to do some good in Vietnam if you can give us a project and get us over there." Zumwalt was intrigued. Maupin exchanged more letters with officials and got his project.

Navy and State Department agreed to let Maupin and any volunteers he could find assist in building a 20-unit housing project for dependents of South Vietnamese navy veterans at Cat Lai, 15 miles east of Saigon.

Maupin relied on phone calls to friends and word of mouth to spread his appeal to veterans. The message: "We know the Americans are getting out of Vietnam. Let's do everything we possibly can for the Vietnamese people before we leave."

Let's do something as civilians."

Charles P. Collins III, 28, another former naval officer from Dallas, Tex., quit his job as a recruiter for a computer firm to help select other volunteers.

Jack Myerovitz, 23, a former Marine who helped recapture Hue after the 1968 Tet offensive, heard about it at a veterans' convention in Maryland. He got two months off without pay from his job as a government printer in Washington and left his home in Greenbelt, Md.

Carrollton E. Reese Jr., 27, a Hyattsville, Md., construction worker who once guarded an Army ammunition dump at Qui Nhon, learned of the project while fishing with a friend. It took him 30 seconds to volunteer.

One Injured, $400 Damage In Mishap

State police of the Warren substation investigated a one-car traffic accident at 2 a.m. Wednesday, three miles north of Warren on Route 62 which resulted in $400 damage to the vehicle involved.

According to Trooper Richard DeSimone, a car driven by William Charles Rice, 20, of 478 River rd., Warren, was traveling south when a deer allegedly jumped off a bank in front of the auto, causing the operator to lose control. Police said when the vehicle dropped off onto the low berm it struck guard rails and rolled over an embankment.

A passenger in the Rice car, Karen North, 18, of 844 Pleasant dr., Warren, was treated and released for an injured nose.

Two Bell Unions To Get Negotiated Pay Raises

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania announced Wednesday that wage increases with two unions negotiated before the Aug. 15 wage-price freeze, but not formally ratified until after Aug. 15, will be put into effect immediately.

The announcement came after numerous contacts with the Office of Emergency Preparedness.

The wage increases, negotiated for employees in the plant, controller, services and traffic departments, will be retroactive as provided in the contracts. A company spokesman said the increases will be included in employee paychecks as soon as possible.

The question of a special city allowance for employees assigned to work in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh has not yet been resolved.

Employees involved are represented by the Federation of Telephone Workers of Pennsylvania and the Pennsylvania Telephone Union, Local 1944 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Man Arrested

A Russell man was arrested by the Warren County Sheriff's Dept. at 11 a.m. Tuesday on a bench warrant for non-payment of fine and costs. Fred L. Wenzel, 19, RD 1-A, Russell was released upon payment of the monies involved.

Police Need Support And Training

The task of serving as a law enforcement officer grows more arduous with each passing day, and no matter how dedicated a police officer may be, it would appear he is almost constantly under fire from one direction or another.

Supreme Court opinions have complicated investigation and arrest procedures, although according to national statistics, crime is on the increase. The public is more and more inclined to ridicule, if not actually insult and abuse those attempting to uphold law and order—and every informed citizen must be aware of the role violence plays in the daily lives of many policemen. Throughout this nation, too great a number have laid their lives on the line.

In too many arenas, respect for the officer of the law has diminished—even in some court rooms where a defense attorney can (and within legal boundaries) charge poor police work—can even suggest that an officer is not telling the truth as a witness under oath or can even insinuate that an officer is less honest or honorable as he might be on the witness stand. This is not to say that a defendant is not entitled to the best possible defense, no matter what his station in life may be or what crime he is accused of.

It is difficult as well for the prosecution since a defendant's past record cannot be introduced as testimony and a trial jury must reach their verdict only within the confines of testimony presented.

All those connected with law enforcement, no matter in what capacity, must also double as students of the law in order to interpret and do their jobs according to the various and varied Supreme Court edicts. There are honest mistakes, even occasional errors in judgment.

We feel our law enforcement officers are generally deserving of public support and commendation. But we also feel officials responsible for law enforcement should see that police officers have the opportunity to become more knowledgeable of the laws they must deal with.

Check It!

It may sound repetitious, but school is open and youngsters are out en masse at certain periods of the day.

Many of us have been used to free-wheeling it during the summer months—traveling here and there in the open country. But now suddenly there are children crossing at many busy intersections and riding their bicycles along the streets.

It's time to start giving our driving habits a good second thought. Not after it's too late.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON—Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., decided at a secret strategy session last month in the Virgin Islands to enter a host of presidential primaries.

These will include California, Florida, Illinois, Massachusetts, Nebraska, New Hampshire, Oregon, South Dakota, West Virginia and Wisconsin, also probably Pennsylvania and Rhode Island.

He expects Sen. Ed Muskie, D-Me., the front-runner, to win the first two primaries in New Hampshire and Florida. But McGovern believes he will make a good showing against Muskie in California, Massachusetts, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

McGovern's strategy will be to concentrate on becoming the leading challenger by the year's end. If he can crowd out the other rivals and establish himself as the No. 2 candidate, he would be able to narrow the race to a Muskie vs. McGovern showdown.

This would put McGovern in a position to pick up the support of the other liberals in the race and to dramatize the differences between himself and Muskie.

Footnote: At the secret meeting, he received a financial report from his treasurer, Henry Kimelman, who announced that more than $400,000 had been raised, most of it by direct mail.

FBI AND MAFIA

The FBI has plenty of agents to search for stolen cars, infiltrate anti-war rallies, keep files on congressmen and polish J. Edgar Hoover's image. But it has assigned only four to the Justice Department's vital, 17-city drive against the Mafia.

The campaign against the centipede crime syndicate is spearheaded by strike forces in each city. These are run by tough, young Justice Department lawyers, who have 228 federal agents from various law enforcement agencies working under them.

The confidential strike force rosters show how badly the FBI has let down the rest of the anti-Mafia team. Only four of the 228 federal agents come from the FBI. The rest are Treasury, narcotics, postal and securities agents.

Apologists for the FBI insist that its agents help out the strike forces without direct assignments, that the FBI conducts its own separate Mafia investigations. This is partly true, but other agencies have contributed full-time lawmen to a unified drive against organized crime.

In New York City, corporate headquarters of the Cosa Nostra, 27 agents are fighting organized crime under the Justice Department lawyers. The FBI has contributed one man.

On the West Coast, a hotbed of Mafia activity, 33 federal agents are working for strike forces in San Francisco and Los Angeles. Not one of them is an FBI man.

The FBI has assigned one man each to the strike forces in Chicago, Pittsburgh and Boston. But not a single FBI agent serves on the strike forces in Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, Kansas City, Miami, New Orleans, Philadelphia and St. Louis.

Footnote: Drug addicts, who must steal to feed their habit, have caused the alarming increase in unorganized crime. And the Mafia is the brains behind most organized crime. Yet the nation's foremost law enforcement agency, the 7,800-man FBI, turned down ex-President Lyndon Johnson's appeal to help crack down on the illicit drug traffic and provides only marginal help in the drive against the Mafia.

CULTURAL REVOLUTION

We have stirred up our own small cultural revolution by calling the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts a public works palace for the rich and comparing the odor of the contract negotiations to the smell of the Potomac River outside.

This brought an explosive rebuttal from Roger Stevens, the center's distinguished chairman, and we responded with additional facts to support our charges. Here are the latest developments:

+We mentioned, as an illustration of the lavishness of the center, that chandeliers had been installed in the elevators. These have now been removed.

+We charged that the juicy maintenance contract had been tentatively awarded, not to the lowest bidder, but to a subsidiary of International Telephone and Telegraph. The conglomerate, a benefactor of the center, already had the parking and food concessions. Stevens has now ordered all maintenance bids rejected.

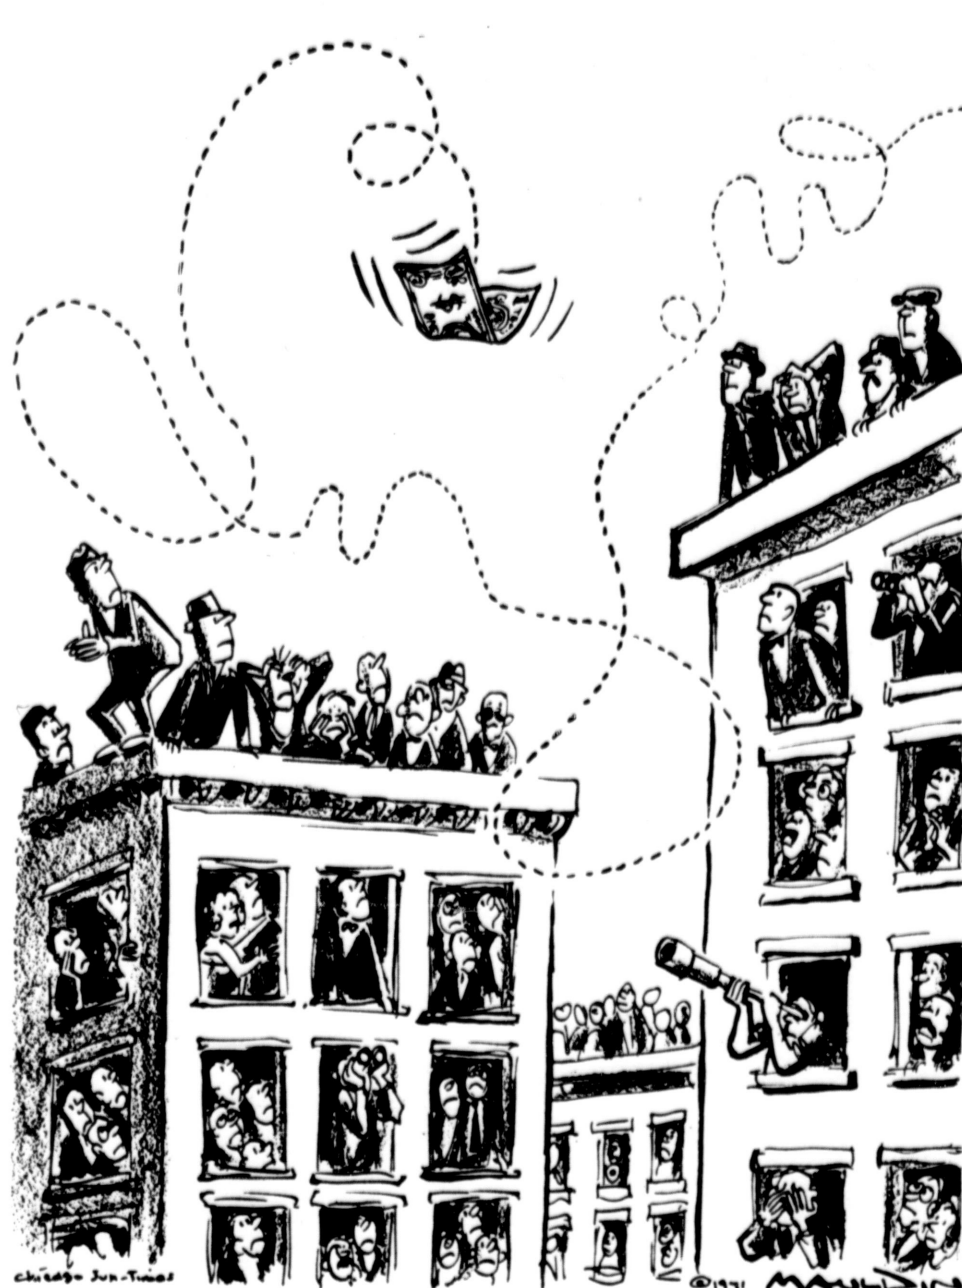

+Responsible newspapermen have reasonable doubts about this, and I think it will always be tainted in the public's mind," Stevens said. "I am ordering all the bids rejected as of this moment and the records opened for inspection as soon as possible."

We also informed Stevens that the center's fabulous haute cuisine restaurant, La Grande Scene, had not hired a single black as a waiter or busboy.

This is more important than it may seem, for black waiters have been discriminated against in most of Washington's expensive restaurants where the prices, and therefore the tips, are highest. Many had hoped the Kennedy Center would provide a new opportunity.

"This is unacceptable in an institution that bears Jack Kennedy's name," Stevens responded. "The contractor will be put on notice in a letter immediately that this must stop."

Roger Stevens, who has given generously of his time and money to the Kennedy Center, has impressed us with his conscientiousness.

Some Bouquets

HARRISBURG—Although it is difficult to find something to cheer about regarding the 2.3 percent state income tax now on the books for Pennsylvania, some bouquets along with the brickbats seemingly are in order.

The major brickbat regarding the Legislature's passage last week of the income tax is, of course—do we really need the blasted thing? Or couldn't the massive $3.2 billion state budget have been pruned of a few more limbs, thereby negating the need for an income tax?

However, Governor Shapp and the State House of Representatives and Senate in their collective wisdom have deemed otherwise and so it's back to the tax rack for John Q. Taxpayer.

But in all fairness, this column would like to toss a rose or two regarding the manner in which the fiscal crisis was finally resolved.

Within days following the Pennsylvania Supreme Court's rejection of a 3.5 percent income tax last June, this column said:

"Dark and brooding as this cloud may appear to some (primarily to His Excellency Milton Shapp and the battle-scarred legislators) this corner cannot help but see a silver lining."

"Namely, a golden opportunity for the elected representatives to put the horse back in front of the fiscal cart where he belongs, that is, passage of a budget before the tax, whatever it may be!"

And now, two months later and to its credit, the Legislature which previously passed an income tax before a budget, has commendably reversed itself and has passed a budget before the income tax.

The other rose is aimed in the direction of Governor Shapp for his immediate attitude following passage of the flat income tax.

It might have been very tempting for His Excellency to strut about and gloat over what must be considered a legislative victory.

Instead, and to his credit, Mr. Shapp correctly entitled the tax action nothing more than "a salvage operation" saying:

ART BUCHWALD

The New Fall Term

WASHINGTON—This is going to be a tough fall for schoolchildren, perhaps the toughest they've ever faced. Many teachers who were promised raises won't get them and while they will not take it out on the kids, I'm sure it will be uppermost in their minds. I can imagine what will happen in the classrooms across the nation.

The scene is Public School 349. The teacher calls the class to order.

"Now children, the first subject is arithmetic. I'm going to give you a problem. If someone was promised a raise of 10 percent on $7,000 a year at the beginning of a school term, and at the last minute it was rescinded, how much money would she have been cheated out of?"

One of the children raises his hand. "Seven hundred dollars."

"That's correct, Anthony. Now here is the second problem. A person has gone to college for five years to learn a profession. When she comes out of school she makes half as much money as a plumber. If a plumber makes $15,000 a year, how much will the college graduate make?"

The children work silently for five minutes. Then Susan raises her hand. "She would make $7,500."

"If she's lucky," the teacher says. "One more. If the cost of living went up 7 percent in one year, and a person could not get an increase in her salary because of government bureaucrats, how much less would her salary be worth in three years?"

Johnny pipes up, "Twenty-one percent."

"All right, you seem to know your arithmetic. Let's go on to English. Which of these two sentences is correct? 'President Nixon's economic game plan were a failure' or 'President Nixon's economic game plan was a failure'?"

"Let no one be mistaken; we cannot rest here or take momentary satisfaction, even though we have restored fiscal stability to the commonwealth. We must, right now, continue the fight for tax justice and tax reform."

The Governor went on to pledge that he would lead a drive to amend the State Constitution to permit a graduated income tax.

Which brings up another point, namely the necessity (or lack of it) for an income tax. Granted, if Pennsylvania has a choice between the current income tax on gross income or a graduate income tax, the lesser by far of the two evils would clearly seem to be a graduated tax.

Consequently, the Governor is to be commended for advocating quick replacement of the just-arrived flat income tax with one of the graduated variety.

But is an income tax, regardless of the variety, the only answer?

That is a question this corner feels next year's Legislature should address itself to when budget time rolls around again. Once more, the primary consideration should be toward a leaner budget and therefore a lesser tax bite.

But if the Legislature revokes the income tax next year without making a corresponding cut in the budget it would appear that the lawmakers may consider an adjustment of the state sales tax.

(A recent national poll had more taxpayers supporting an increased sales tax rather than an income tax.)

This is what happened in Connecticut where outraged taxpayers forced the Legislature to revoke a 40-day old state income tax.

Connecticut Governor Meskill may have been speaking for a lot of silent Pennsylvania taxpayers when he signed that state's income tax repeal and remarked:

"I am confident that the people of our state are more willing to accept cuts in spending than they are willing to accept an income tax."

Charles replies, "Was a failure."

"The people who were caught in a wage-price freeze are those who could least afford it" or "The people who were caught in a wage-price freeze are those who could least afford it?"

"Are?"

"What is wrong with this sentence: 'American economists don't know nothing'?"

Carol replies, "It should read 'American economists don't know everything.'"

"You're wrong," the schoolteacher says bitterly. "It should read 'American economists don't know anything.' Let's go on to another subject. Get out your American history books. What was President Hoover most noted for?"

David raises his hand. "A depression."

"What is a depression?"

"It's when everyone is out of work and nobody has any money to buy food," Bobby replies.

"When people don't make enough money in America what do they do?"

"They go out on strike," Freddy yelled. "How long do they go out on strike?"

"Until the other people give them more money."

"Can everyone go out on strike in America?"

"No," Joel says. "Policemen, firemen and schoolteachers can't go on strike."

"Why not?"

Everyone was stumped.

"All right," the teacher says. "Your homework tonight is for each of you to write to President Nixon and ask him why schoolteachers can't go on strike."

"Class dismissed."

Inside The CFR

By Wm. F. Buckley Jr.

There is a bitter fight going on within the Council of Foreign Relations, between what one might loosely call the Establishment wing and the New Left wing. It is not absolutely certain whether the republic would stand more to gain, in the long run, from the victory of the former or the latter.

The casus belli is the designation of William Bundy as the next editor of Foreign Affairs, the quarterly journal of the CFR termed by somebody, sometime ago, as the single most important publication in the world. The reason that was said is because Foreign Affairs has been the journal in which very important trial balloons are floated, and where very serious analyses of foreign developments are ventilated. An illustrious example is the elaboration, in Foreign Affairs in the late forties, of the doctrine of containment by "X," who turned out to be George F. Kennan. Henry Kissinger's famous book on nuclear diplomacy was a publication of the CFR.

So what's wrong with William Bundy's becoming editor of Foreign Affairs? Nothing is wrong with it, except that Bundy is not Clean on Vietnam. He was an influential State Department employee during the sixties, and the Pentagon Papers revealed that he wrote memoranda during that period in which he suggested various means of advancing the Administration's policies in Vietnam.

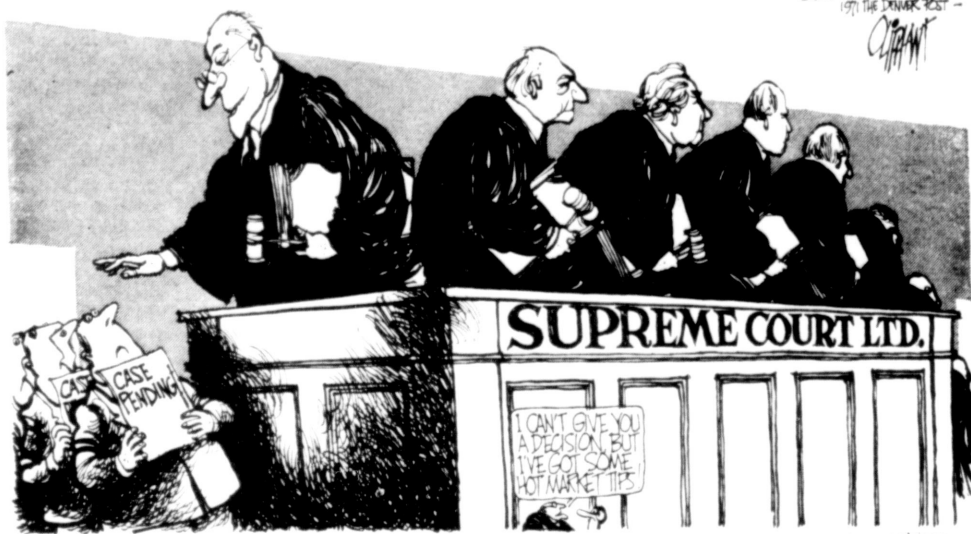

According to the new morality, this was wrong: "anti-Nuremberg," as we now put it. The principal prosecutor of Mr. Bundy is one Richard Falk, a professor of international law at Princeton, whose pursuit of morality led him on one recent occasion to defend the North Vietnamese prisoner-of-war policy. Although Mr. Bundy's defense of himself has been rather philosophical and resigned, he does suggest that what Falk et al are engaged in is a new kind of "McCarthyism." For those who find that hard to follow, he is saying that just as McCarthy was given to accusing everyone who disagreed with him of being evil, so is Falk given to the same kind of thing, under the New Left dispensation.

There is a wonderful irony to cap it all. Bundy reminded an interviewer that Senator Joe McCarthy had singled him out for criticism for having contributed $400 to the legal defense fund of Alger Hiss. O tempora! And if you desire that to be psychoanalyzed, its meaning is: look, fellows, why should you be so sore at me? I'm so liberal. I once gave money to support Alger Hiss!

In fact, the Bundy group are the conservatives in this dispute. Conservative in the sense that they defend democratic mechanisms. Never mind Bundy's own position on Vietnam, he worked to implement the policy of the national Administration, and that policy was closely plugged in to the public will, and endorsed, indirectly and directly, in 1966 and 1968. If the followers of Richard Falk succeed in reversing the appointment, or if they succeed in sabotaging Foreign Affairs, they will have done a great deal to promote the general anarchy.

There are other factors, however. The Council on Foreign Relations was never the great ganglion of anti-American Zionism internationalism that the kooks in the right-wing fever swamps suspected. It was—and is—something else, which is not altogether wholesome. It is inbred, snobbish, and elitist. Its animus against a buoyant and inventive anti-Communism is palpable. It is out of touch with important currents that flow through America. Recently Professor John Kenneth Galbraith resigned from it "not from the Bundy thing, but out of sheer boredom." Galbraith further believes that as the principal organ of the Establishment, Foreign Affairs will not recover from its dalliance with our Vietnam policies of recent years.

It isn't obvious, as I say, whether one should wish it to recover or not. Every now and then, the CFR gang puts on a fine performance, as when a bunch of them went down to the White House and spoke up against the move to withdraw our troops from Europe, as demanded by Senator Mansfield. But on the whole, they are the gentlemen who have ushered us into an age in which we deal with Communist China obsequiously because our anti-Communist diplomacy in China failed; in which we face the prospects of a new isolationism because we could not muster the will to act decisively in Vietnam; in which, in Europe, and in the Mediterranean basin, our voice diminishes as the people there realize that America is becoming a second-class power. The same America whose foreign policy has been written, over three decades, by the writers and principal performers of the Council on Foreign Relations.

ASCS Office Center On Economic Actions

All residents of Warren County may obtain answers to questions on operation and interpretation of the presidential order of Aug. 15 on prices, rents, wages and salaries from the Warren County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office, according to Charles F. Camp, chairman of the County ASCS Committee.

County ASCS offices throughout the United States have been chosen as information centers to answer questions from all citizens on President Nixon's Executive Order which is designated to stem inflation and strengthen the national economy.

The Warren County ASCS Office is receiving official answers to questions concerning the President's action, and any person in Warren County who wants or needs precise information should get in touch with the county office, Camp said.

The Warren County ASCS Office is located in the Court House, Warren. The telephone number is 723-4120. In charge of the office is Gerald G. Bensink, county executive director.

"Ours and all ASCS offices throughout the nation, will function as information centers in all locations outside of highly urbanized areas," Camp said.

County ASCS offices are not to handle complaints or appeals, he said. They will serve only to provide official information. Persons with complaints will register them with the most convenient district or sub-district office of the Internal Revenue Service.

"Neither will interpretations or guesses be made by ASCS county office people. They will answer only those questions for which they have been supplied answers. If they don't know the answer to a specific question, they will say so. If a member of the public wants the county office to obtain an answer, the question will go by phone or mail to the nearest IRS district office," Camp said.

Normal function of ASCS county offices is to administer farm action programs of the U.S. Department of Agriculture on the local level. Chairman Camp said ASCS service to farmers will continue without interruption.

NEW MANAGER

New manager of the Betty Lee shoe department is Joseph Ulo, 8 Glenwood st., Warren. He was formerly employed as the manager of a family shoe store in Buena Park, Calif., for 14 years and in a Jamestown, N. Y., shoe store for two years. Having been concerned with correctional footwear, Ulo considers a fine fit essential to his work and an obligation to his customers. He and his wife, Donna, and their four children have resided in Warren for two years.

WARREN COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT School Lunch Policy Outlines

The full price of the lunch. The building principal shall determine eligibility for free or reduced price lunches. Policy statement in full is recorded in the minutes of the January 21, 1969 Board Meeting, revised December 14, 1970.

PROCEDURE

1. A parent, guardian, or member of the professional staff may file applications for free or reduced price lunches for deserving students. This may be filed at any time during the school year.

2. Application blanks shall be secured from, submitted to, and kept on file in the principal's office. These applications shall be reviewed periodically.

3. Within a week of filing an application a notice of the decision will be sent to the person filing the application.

4. Aside from the file of applications kept in the principal's office, no other lists of students receiving free or reduced price lunches shall be made.

5. If a student transfers from one school to another school within the Warren County School District, his application for free lunches will be forwarded to the new school and honored by that principal.

6. The Warren County School District shall have a dual payment system for lunches. Tickets may be purchased from the principal's office or cash may be paid for the lunch at the time of the purchase. Students eligible for a free or reduced price lunch shall be given tickets from the principal's office.

7. No student shall be required to work for his free or reduced price lunch; no student receiving a free or reduced price lunch will use a separate lunch room, use a separate entrance to or from the lunch room, receive a lunch different in content from that of a student who pays for his lunch or in any other way be discriminated against. No student consuming lunch without charge shall be required to pay for this lunch at a future date.

8. Daily, the principal shall report to the cafeteria manager the number of free or reduced price lunches he has authorized.

CRITERIA

1. To be considered for a free or reduced price lunch the family of the student shall be impoverished. Until further notice, the following poverty index is valid in considering eligibility for the free lunch program.

Family size and total income from all sources:

1—$2,040; 2—$2,670; 3—$3,310; 4—$4,000; 5—$4,750; 6—$5,500; 7—$6,250; 8—$7,000; 9—$7,750; 10—$8,500; 11—$9,250; 12—$10,000.

For each additional family member add $750.

2. A student may receive a free or reduced price lunch due to extenuating circumstances as determined by the principal. The need of the child is the uppermost in determining eligibility. There shall be no discrimination.

LINE OF APPEAL

1. The individual submitting an application for a free or reduced price lunch has the right to appeal the decision to the Director of Pupil Personnel Services of the Warren County School District.

Garden Show Winners Pescha-Wester Nuptials Held In Wickliffe, Ohio

(EDITORS NOTE: REMAINDER OF LIST OF WINNERS WILL BE PUBLISHED TOMORROW)

Approximately 200 visitors, including a bus load of patients from Warren State Hospital, visited the "Carnival of Flowers", held in the Lander Parish House on Thursday afternoon and evening, August 26.

There were 361 entries from the communities of Sugar Grove, Lander, Bear Lake, Lottsville, Russell, Warren, Jamestown, Oil City and Erie. There were 101 blue ribbons awarded by the judges, who were: Mrs. James Murphy, Erie; Mrs. A. H. Bastow, Erie; Mrs. M. J. Bernella, Forge Village, Mass.; Mrs. Darrell Gifford, Ashville, N. Y.; Mrs. Rene Vandeuere, Erie; and Mrs. L. S. Bouquin, Oil City, Pa. Mrs. Leonard Siliano, RD 3, Sugar Grove, won the sweepstakes awards in both the Horticulture and Artistic Design divisions, winning 13 blue ribbons in Horticulture and 4 blue ribbons in Artistic Design.

Awards of Merit were presented to Mrs. Conrad Wilson, RD 4, Jamestown, N. Y., for her unusual African Violet; Mrs. Conrad Youngberg, RD 3, Sugar Grove, for her tuberous begonia; and to Mrs. Elmer Swanson, RD 2, Russell, for her Carnation rose spray. Neal Lassinger, RD 3, Sugar Grove, won a Junior Achievement Award for his arrangement in Class 66, "Clowns".

An Educational Exhibit, prepared and executed by Miss Caribelle Swanson, librarian of the Sugar Grove Free Library, won the State Silver Educational Award.

Mrs. Robert Sokolski, of Warren, was awarded the door prize.

Hints From Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

Have you ever tried using a pipe cleaner for a miniature paint brush? It works great! Just dip the end into the color you wish to use and snip off the end of the pipe cleaner each time you wish to change color.

One pipe cleaner could be made to last through four to six different colors.

Mary Lord

DEAR HELOISE:

I've just discovered that my travel iron is absolutely terrific—because of its size and weight—for ironing baby clothes and ruffles.

Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church in Wickliffe, Ohio was the setting for the wedding of Kathy Elizabeth Wester and Thomas John Pescha on Saturday, August 28, 1971. The Rev. Fr. James Costello performed the double ring ceremony at 1 p.m. before an altar decorated with white gladioli, pink snap dragons, pink carnations and baby's breath.

Mr. and Mrs. Enar A. Wester of 213 Madison avenue, Warren, are parents of the bride. Mr. Pescha is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton J. Pescha of 1818 Rush road, Wickliffe, Ohio.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She appeared in a wedding gown of white silk organza over bridal taffeta in an "A" silhouette. Reembroidered Alencon lace sprinkled with seed pearls was applied on the molded empire bodice outlining the sheer yoke and formed the scalloped crown collar. The lace also outlined the wide flared cuff on the three-quarter length sleeves. Streamers of matching lace were applied down the front of the skirt and circled the hem. A pert back bow secured her voluminous chapel length wateau train.

The bride's bouffant veil of English silk illusion was caught to a bandeau of lace and satin ribbon looped bows highlighted with pearls and crystal and accented with ribbon streamers. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations, pink, white and blue daisies and baby's breath.

Miss Karen M. Larsen, niece of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a floor length gown of navy dotted swiss voile over taffeta with a white Val lace empire bodice sashed with pink satin ribbon and accented with tiny pink buttons. Her headress was a large pink garden hat with long pink satin streamers caught to a cluster of daisies. She carried a fireside basket of pink carnations, pink, white and blue daisies and baby's breath.

Another niece of the bride, Miss Linda A. Larsen, was the bridesmaid. She was gowned the same as the honor attendant and carried a matching basket of flowers. The bridegroom's niece, Miss Connie Hanna of Euclid, Ohio, was the flower girl. She was dressed in miniature to the other attendants and carried a small fireside basket of identical flowers.

James W. Pescha, of Chesterland, Ohio, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man and Larry Dannemiller was the usher. Mark A. McArthur of Sugar Grove, Pa., nephew of the bride, was the ringbearer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wester chose a pink and white brocade dress and pink accessories with a corsage of pink carnations and baby's breath. The mother of the bride was attired in a purple knit dress with white daisy trim and a corsage of pink carnations and baby's breath.

Following the ceremony, approximately 125 guests attended a garden reception at the home of the bridegroom's parents. Aides were Mrs. Charles Larsen, Mrs. James Pescha and Mrs. Mark Kozel. For their wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the new Mrs. Pescha chose a gray two-piece suit and a corsage of white carnations and pink sweetheart roses.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Warren Area High School and a 1969 alumna of Jamestown Business College, Jamestown, N. Y. She is now employed as a medical secretary at the Cleveland Clinic, Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Pescha, a 1968 graduate of Wickliffe High School, is employed as a tool and die designer at Universal Metal Products in Wickliffe.

The couple is making their home at 27645 Bishop Park drive, Apt. 106, Wickliffe, Ohio. Pre-nuptial affairs were given by Misses Karen and Linda Larsen, Mrs. Russ Hanna and Mrs. A. H. Werlin.

To Wed In November

Mrs. June Shipe of Marienville, Pa. announces the engagement of her daughter, Susan Lynn, to Anthony Wayne Frost, son of Mr. W. B. Frost of Marienville.

Miss Shipe is a 1966 graduate of Walter George High School in Atlanta, Georgia and a 1970 graduate of Grady Memorial Hospital School of Nursing, Atlanta, Georgia. She is presently employed by Warren General Hospital.

Mr. Frost is a 1959 graduate of East Forest High School and has completed six years in the U.S. Army. He is employed by the Tennessee Gas Pipeline Company, Marienville.

A November 27 wedding is planned.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our son is 25 years old, a college graduate and presently employed in a large, top-notch firm. Several weeks ago Mendel became engaged to a girl he met while on vacation last year. She lives in another city but they have been together every weekend for the past several months. (Usually she comes here.)

Yesterday Mendel told me he is going to have "rhinoplasty." I didn't know what he was talking about until he explained that he plans to see a plastic surgeon about getting his nose shortened. I asked him how come he suddenly decided his nose was too long, seeing as how he had done rather well with it. (Phi Beta Kappa and a Fulbright scholarship). His answer was what I had suspected. "Phyllis wants me to."

Does a woman have the right to ask a man to do this crazy thing? Mendel is a wonderful looking boy. You wouldn't know he had a nose if you didn't see him from the side. I'm afraid he will ruin his looks altogether. Should I call Phyllis and tell her to keep her hands off Mendel's nose?—WHITE PLAINS MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: No. This is between Mendel and Phyllis. A 25-year-old ought to know what he's doing. If he makes a mistake he'll have a reminder in the middle of his face for the rest of his life. This decision, however, must be his.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Most of your advice is sound but now and then you see only one side of a problem and that's when you run into trouble. For example, I didn't like your advice to the woman who had taken a rich cousin into her home and then complained because the cousin paid her only $50 a month for room and board.

What is "rich?" Forty years ago an aunt of mine who had inherited $50,000 was considered "rich." We all wondered why she didn't take expensive trips, buy fine clothes and give fancy presents.

"Auntie" was conservative with her money. We thought she was tight. She said she was saving for her old age. She was wise. They had no Social Security in those days.

Today a person who has $50,000 is far from rich. That sum, invested at 6 per cent interest, yields $250 a month, which is not a great deal of money when one considers the high cost of living and the inflationary pattern of our economy.

If the woman who wrote feels her "rich" relative is not paying enough for room and board she should say so and not write to Ann Landers.—SAME BOAT

DEAR BOAT: Why shouldn't she write to Ann Landers? You did. And I'm glad. Your advice to "Auntie" was precisely the same advice I gave her. You write rather well. How come you can't read?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our son called yesterday to say he is coming home for a week. He asked me to reserve a room for him and his girl at a nearby motel. He added, "Please get a room with a large bed. We don't like twin beds." I told him I did not approve of his "now generation" sleeping arrangements and to make his own reservations. His voice became brittle, (as it always does when he becomes irritated) and he replied, "I am 23 years old and I don't NEED your approval. All I am asking you to do is you make the call. Will you?" I said, "No, I will not." Was I wrong?—NORTH PLATTE MOM

DEAR MOM: Your son had no business asking you to make that call. Had you done so you would have been condoning the sleeping arrangement—which is what he was after. You out-foxed him. Doll.

Upstarts Win Big In First Night Of Rec Playoffs

Two of the regular-season semi-finalists in the Recreation Softball League sustained defeats Wednesday in the first night of the league's annual post-season Shaughnessy Playoffs held at Betts Memorial Field.

The upstart victors were Try-M Finance and Pennsylvania Bank & Trust. The 7-Percenter continued the late-season win streak they amassed to a current 11 out of 12 games in their 14-3 bombardment of Pepperidge, while PBT exploded in two big innings to down the Process in the first of two best-of-three series.

Al Brown and Jan Garrett were all-around hitting stars for Try-M while Roy Swanson joined the two in the home run department. Pepperidge had taken a 2-1 lead after the first inning, but Try-M added three in the fourth and capped the contest with a seven-run sixth inning.

Bill Grove added consistency to the Try-M attack with a 4-for-5 night, while winning pitcher Eli Fehlman stroked two hits, plating two runs.

Process also led early against the Bankers, with Terry Albright's single the key hit in a two-run first inning. The Bank came back in the second with Bill Dudinack and Gail Platt singling to produce one run. In the fourth, the big Bank explosion featured two singles and three straight walks.

The icing on the cake came in the eighth-run sixth, when PBT put 11 men up to bat.

The teams meet again Thursday night at Carbon Field.

Seaver Tops Bob Gibson Mets End Cards' Streak

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Tom Seaver pitched a four-hitter and drew 12 hit support as the New York Mets trounced St. Louis and Bob Gibson, 7-1, Wednesday night, ending a four-game Cardinals winning streak.

The Stylish Seaver, notching his fifth straight triumph and 16th of the season, beat Gibson and the Cards for the third time this year.

Gibson 13-12, was chased during a three-run Mets seventh. Duffy Dyer drove in the Mets first run with a second inning single, following Ken Boswell's single and a passed ball.

Wayne Garrett and Cleon Jones singled with one out in the New York third and a single by Ed Knapik and Boswell's sacrifice fly gave the Mets a 3-0 lead.

Seaver, the National League's ERA leader, fanned seven and walked two in pitching his 16th complete game.

New York's final run came in the eighth on Bud Harrelson's hit, a stolen base, Garrett's deep fly ball and a wild pitch by Cardinals reliever Stan Williams.

The Cards scored in the ninth on Ted Sizemore's double and Joe Torre's single.

Dodgers Erupt Pound Houston Behind Sutton

HOUSTON (AP) — Don Sutton fired a four-hitter and the Los Angeles Dodgers erupted for eight runs in the second inning Wednesday night to whip the Houston Astros 9-2.

Sutton, winning his 13th, walked just one and struck out 12. The loser was Jack Billingham, 6-14.

The Dodgers sent 13 men to the plate in the inning against Billingham, Denny Lemaster and Buddy Harris.

A one-out walk to Jim Lefebvre triggered the spurge after Willie Davis had singled across a first inning run.

Hits by Tom Hallen and Sutton followed, loading the bases, and a run-scoring groundout by Maury Willis and an error made it 3-0.

Richie Allen singled for two more and Wes Parker singled against Lemaster to hike the count to 6-0. Crawford, Lefebvre and Haller knocked in the other runs.

The Astros got two off Sutton in the third on a double by John Edwards, Cesar Cedeño's triple and a fielder's choice.

Czech Stuns Tennis Open

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Jan Kodeš, a curly-haired Czech with an aversion for grass, stunned the U.S. Open Tennis Championships with a first round victory over top-seeded John Newcombe of Australia Wednesday—and admitted no one was more surprised than himself.

"I only wanted to win one set and I won three," Kodeš said after upsetting Newcombe, the reigning Wimbledon champion and No. 1 ranked player in the world, 2-6, 7-6, 7-6, 6-3.

"I only play on grass twice a year," Wimbledon and Forest Hills—and I don't play much then. I usually get knocked out in the first round.

"Grass is very difficult. I think the game on grass is a joke."

Newcombe was sluggish and badly off form. "I played lousy," he said.

Elimination of Newcombe took some more lustre from this 12-day tournament, already dulled by the withdrawal of Rod Laver and the defection of such stars as defending champion Ken Rosewall, Tony Roche and Roy Emerson, but it threw the men's field wide open. The upset buoyed the hopes of American players Stan Smith, Arthur Ashe, Clark Graebner, Cliff Richey and Marty Riessen.

Ashe, seeded No. 3, winner of the inaugural U.S. Open in 1968, passed his opening test easily, turning back Dick Knight of the inaugural U.S. Open in 1968, passed his opening test easily, turning back Dick Knight of Bellevue, Wash., 6-3, 6-4, 6-1.

Pro-Am Tourney Set At JVCC

A Pro-Am Tournament is planned for Jackson Valley Country Club on Sunday, Oct. 10, according to club professional Les Rettberg. 15 professionals will be on hand, leaving openings for 45 amateurs in the annual event. Interested golfers should sign up at the clubhouse.

The Jackson Valley League Tournament and dinner will be held at JVCC on Sat., Sept. 18. All team players are to sign up either through their team captains or at the clubhouse.

This weekend marks the final holes of the annual JVCC Club Championship tournament. Pairings will be in Friday's Times-Mirror and Observer. The eight championship flight winners will play off on Labor Day.

Last Minute Padre Rally Beats Cincy

CINCINNATI (AP) — Dave Roberts hurled a five-hitter to outduel Gary Nolan as the San Diego Padres defeated Cincinnati 3-1 Wednesday night with the help of Nate Colbert's run-scoring single and Ollie Brown's two-run double.

Roberts, 12-14, boasts the second lowest earned run average among starters in the National League.

Roberts struck out five. He blanked the Reds until George Foster singled with two out in the ninth, scoring Hal McRae, who had doubled.

Colbert singled home Enzo Hernandez in the first inning for the first run of the game. Hernandez opened the game with a single and moved to second on a sacrifice by Don Mason.

Nolan, 11-15, allowed only three other hits and he fanned five in eight innings. In one stretch, Nolan retired 12 straight men.

The Padres clipped reliever Tony Cloninger for two runs in the ninth on a single by Mason, walk to Colbert and Brown's double.

Cumberland Slams Door On Braves

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—John Cumberland pitched a four-hitter and Atlanta errors led to three unearned runs as the San Francisco Giants defeated the Braves 4-0 Wednesday.

Cumberland, 8-3, retired 16 of the first 17 batters in posting his second shutout of the season. The southpaw was staked to a 2-0 lead in the first inning.

Tito Fuentes singled with one out and took second on Ralph Garr's error. Bobby Bonds belted a run-scoring single and went to third on Garr's throwing error. He scored on Willie McCovey's sacrifice fly.

The Giants added two runs in the third off loser Ron Reed, 12-11. McCovey doubled with one out and scored on Alan Gallagher's single.

Earl Williams' error allowed Gallagher to take second before scoring on Chris Speier's single.

Twins Shuffle Stan Williams To St. Louis

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — The Minnesota Twins have sold relief pitcher Stan Williams to the St. Louis Cardinals for cash and two players to be named later.

Williams, 4-5 with three saves and a 4.15 ERA in 46 appearances this year, will be 35 years old on Sept. 15.

The right-hander had his best year in 1970 with a 10-1 record and a 1.99 ERA that included nine straight victories, a club record.

Carl Taylor Rejoins Bucs

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Outfielder Carl Taylor, who started the season with the Kansas City Royals, was sold to the Pittsburgh Pirates for an undisclosed sum Wednesday by the Royals' Omaha farm club.

Omaha closes its American Association season Thursday night and Taylor will report to the National League East's front-running Pirates Friday.

Taylor, 27, had his best year with Pittsburgh in 1969 when he hit .348 in 104 games. He batted .249 for St. Louis last summer then was traded to Milwaukee, which dealt the right-handed hitter to Kansas City last Feb. 2 for catcher Ellie Rodriguez.

SF Unseated By Ruling

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — About 4,500 new seats in Candlestick Park have been declared in violation of earthquake safety standards and unsafe for football and baseball games scheduled here.

"The engineers say that a severe quake could happen and imperil the people occupying those seats," S. Myron Tatarian of the Department of Public Works said Tuesday after the department's ruling.

The seats are part of continuing construction, designed to increase the stadium's capacity from 45,000 to 60,000.

The new sections were roped off Tuesday night, reducing seating to 34,500 during the San Francisco Giants baseball game against Atlanta.

Texans Eyeing New Streak Against Southwest Rivals

DALLAS (AP) — The Texas Longhorns' 30-game victory string is a memory, but they've got enough pure talent to start it all over again this autumn and should be the prime contender from the Southwest to unseat Nebraska for the national championship.

Arkansas and Texas Tech should be the only major roadblocks and they've got some headaches to cure before they can contend with Coach Darrell Royal's burnt orange bruisers.

The Longhorns lost three All-Americans from the team that compiled the third longest winning string in modern collegiate football history before the 24-11 loss to Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl last New Year's Day.

All-Americans fullback Steve Worster, defensive end Bill Atessis and offensive tackle Bobby Wunsch are gone. So is clutch pass receiver Cotton Speyrer.

But Texas returns the chief mechanic of its intricate wishbone-T-quarterback Eddie Phillips. Royal says Phillips is the best he's had in 14 years at Longhornville.

"Eddie is a flawless ball-handler and he runs the option to perfection," says Royal. "I just wish they didn't pick All-American quarterbacks on the number of passes completed."

Phillips is improving rapidly as a passer and he will need to go to the air this fall to keep Longhorn foes from loading up to stop the grinding ground thrusters of the Wishbone.

Royal says his backfield will be "the quickest we've had at Texas."

In other words, the Longhorns won't be trying to trample as many opponents this fall as last year. They'll try to beat them with speed.

Replacing Worster at the crucial fullback post, will be Bobby Callison, an explosive runner who was held out last season.

Also, Royal returns fiery Jim Bertelsen, a prime All-America candidate at halfback.

Royal says if Bertelsen isn't an All-American "I never coached one." Bertelsen galloped for six yards a try and 13 touchdowns last year.

Sophomore Don Burrisk gives Texas another breakaway threat.

"We're not what we were the last two years (national champions in 1969) and I just think it would be unreasonable for folks to think that we are," Royal says. "I certainly don't think we're going to be as strong, but there's not one of those players who doesn't believe we're going to be."

Royal adds "We're replacing quality seniors with quality sophomores, but that isn't a fair sweep. We could be starting as many as nine sophomores."

Arkansas and Texas Tech have tremendous offensive potential but both have holes defensively.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles has a gifted quarterback in junior Joe Ferguson.

"He is an exceptional passer, has quick feet and quick hands and can scramble with the football," says Broyles.

Ferguson is capable of connecting with the big play at any moment and has running back Jon Richardson to keep opponents looking for the ground thrust. Receivers Jim Hodge and Mike Reppond have the ability to get open.

But defensively Broyles says Arkansas is "very inexperienced and lacking in overall game knowledge. I think they will be young and aggressive but will make some mistakes. Our offense is going to have to keep the ball a lot in the early games to keep the pressure off of our defense until they can gain some overall game experience."

Broyles has only four starters returning on defense.

Texas Tech should be powerful again offensively behind quarterback Charles Napper, thunder-runners Doug McCutchen and Miles Langchennig, scatback Joe Barnes, and sophomore quarterback star Jimmy Carmichael. Clutch receiver Johnny Odom completes the offensive threat.

On defense, Tech has a problem with inexperienced tackles but boasts a ball-hawking secondary.

Texas A&M Southern Methodist, Texas Christian, Baylor, and Rice rate only spoiler roles.

Houston, which doesn't start play in the SWC until 1975, won't be quite the power it has been in years past. The Cougars could make it into a bowl if the offense will jell early.

The University of Texas at El Paso should field a strong team under Bobby Dobbs and the Miners could be bowl-bound.

But as usual, the seat of power in the Southwest is along the banks of the Colorado River in Austin, Tex.

Speedy Crown took charge of the second heat just before the half-mile mark and, after a neck-and-neck battle with Savoir, charged down the home stretch to win by about 1½ lengths.

Nats' GoGo West Takes Lead Zeros Yanks In U.S. Amateur On 4-Hits

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Gogolewski's four-hit pitching and run-producing hits by Tom McCraw and Dick Billings gave the Washington Senators a 2-0 victory over the New York Yankees Wednesday.

Gogolewski, gaining his fourth victory against three losses, got the only run he needed in a pitching duel with Steve Kline in the first inning when Dave Nelson singled and McCraw tripled with two out.

The Senators added a run in the ninth against Kline when pinch runner Elliott Maddox stole second after Don Mincher's single and rode home on Billings' single.

The Yankees got men to third base in both the fourth and fifth innings with one out but were unable to score.

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Marty West III, who is awaiting a call from his draft board, shot a four under par 67 Wednesday for a three stroke lead over the early finishers in the first round of the 71st annual U.S. Amateur Gold Championship.

The 23-year-old West, a recent graduate of the University of North Carolina, carded five birdies and only one bogey after staggering out of bed at 5:30 a.m. for his 7:38 a.m. starting time at the Wilmington Country Club.

With almost half of the starting field of 150 players still on the course, West led by three over Eddie Pearce of Temple Terrace, Fla.; Nick Weslock, Canadian amateur champion; Bill Hyndman III, 55-year-old Philadelphia insurance broker, and Robert Boyle, 20-year-old University of South Carolina student.

Pearce shot 35-35—70, Weslock 36-34—70, Hyndman 36-34—70, and Boyle 36-34—70 over the 6,872-yard par 35-36-71 Wilmington course, which features narrow fairways, huge greens and deep, sometimes almost unplayable rough.

Among the favorites to succeed recently turned professional Lanny Wadkins as champion, Tom Kite Jr. of the University of Texas, last year's runnerup, shot 35-36—71, and Ben Crenshaw, the NCAA champion also from Texas, carded 37-36—73.

Jim Simons of Butler, Pa., and Wake Forest, the 21-year-old who battled Jack Nicklaus and Lee Trevino to the final hole of the 1971 U.S. Open, and three time runnerup Marvin "Vinnny" Giles of Richmond, Va. were among the late starters.

The 5 foot, 9 West, 1971 Atlantic Coast Conference champion, three putted the first hole for a bogey before he shook the sleep from his eyes and began to play golf. He rolled in a 20 foot putt for a birdie at the second hole, hit a seven iron to within five feet of the pin on six and holed it to make the turn in one under 35.

The 19-year-old Pearce, a teammate of Simons' at Wake Forest and winner this year of the North-South and South-eastern amateur championships, had three birdies and a pair of bogeys in his round of 70.

Weslock, 53, a member of three Canadian world amateur teams, bogeyed the second hole and came back with birds on 16 and 17 for his one under.

Harold Carlson of Bradford called on local relatives Saturday.

The annual Pie Festival was held in the community building Saturday. Assisting the chairman, Mrs. Margaret Keach, were Mrs. Corinne Arlia, Mrs. Gene Hopley, Mrs. Milton Erickson and Mrs. Kay Bryant.

Mrs. Eva Erickson attended the McKean County Retired Teachers' meeting and luncheon in Gateway Inn, Smethport, last Wednesday.

Mrs. John Clark was admitted to Bradford Hospital last Friday evening. Her daughter, Mrs. Walter Graves, is also a patient there.

Local children returned to schools in West Branch and Bradford Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Erickson visited Mr. and Mrs. Allen Wilson of Chautauqua Monday.

TV TEE-HEES

"I see you've been watching a Richard Burton movie!"

Thursday's TV Highlights

Cliff Robertson stars as a lawyer who faces a bizarre trial in "Verdict by Terror," to be televised on NBC Action Playhouse at 7:30 p.m. on Chs. 2, 6 and 12. As a defendant in a kangaroo court, he is tried by a law student determined to prove that his brother was wrongly sent to the gas chamber by the D.A. (Robertson).

Shirley Jones hosts this preview of a new Saturday morning children's show Curiosity Shop at 8:00 p.m. on Ch. 7. The stars are Pemelyn Ferdin, Kerry MacLane, John Levin and Jerelyn Fields, youngsters who will explore themes such as laughter and rules.

A George Plimpton Special will be seen on Ch. 7 at 9:30 p.m. Plimpton tries his hand at the comedian's trade in "Did You Hear the One About?" With one month to prepare his act he seeks help from Steve Allen, Phyllis Diller, Bob Hope, Milton Berle and Jonathan Winters.

All children, whether fair of face or full of woe, are saluted by Debbie Reynolds during Debbie Reynolds and the Sound of Children at 10:00 p.m. on Chs. 2, 6 and 12. She is joined by hundreds of children from toddlers to teen-agers and presents an original musical salute to childhood.

Whither Meat Production?

By SYLVIA PORTER

Last year, you and I consumed 47.8 billion pounds of meat alone, spending 35 cents out of every food $1 for meat and poultry. Without population slated to grow from 203 to 230 million during the '70s and with more than one million acres of cultivated land being lost each year to urban and suburban sprawl, how big a slice will meat take out of our food dollar in 1980?

Here, from Dr. James G. Affleck, vice president of American Cyanamid Co. and president of the Animal Health Institute, the trade group of the manufacturers of animal health and nutrition products, come some industry answers.

Q. How much more meat will be required in 1980?

A. Conservatively, at least 25 per cent more a year. An annual meat and poultry production of at least 60.5 billion pounds would be needed by 1980 to maintain today's levels of availability.

Q. Is this a realistic goal?

A. It's a real challenge. It means increasing our annual poultry production by one billion broilers, expanding our annual beef cattle production by 70 million head. To do this, we must target our research in entirely new directions and intensify our efforts to improve upon our technological breakthroughs in the areas of genetics, disease control and nutrition.

To illustrate, only 20 years ago, it took 36 months to bring beef cattle from birth to market weight. Now it takes 15 months and we're doing it on far less feed than was required in the past.

Q. You mention "disease control." Is it true that feeding antibiotic supplements to animals can lead to bacterial resistance to drugs? And that this resistance could be transferred to humans through the meat they eat?

A. There has been concern over this possibility and, last year, the Food and Drug Administration appointed a task force to study the question. At the task force's request, the Animal Health Institute has coordinated a series of presentations on the use of antibiotics and we're working with the task force to assure a continuing safe supply of meat and poultry. Recent research, incidentally, indicates that resistant bacteria in animals are less capable of causing disease. You might say that, in order to acquire resistance, they seem to surrender some of their ability to cause disease.

Q. What would happen if antibiotic supplements and hormones were eliminated in poultry, swine and meat production?

A. Efficient production today requires concentration of large numbers of animals in relatively small areas. There is just not sufficient land to raise animals the old way and manpower costs of handling animals would be so high that meat costs would soar. Without protection against disease provided by medicated feed supplements, these concentrations would be impossible. Meat production would be much less efficient, meat supplies would be inadequate and costs to consumers would rise dramatically.

Q. Meat is shockingly expensive now.

A. Not at all. Between 1949 and 1969, manufacturing wages rose 144 per cent, personal income 350 per cent, and the general consumer price level 57 per cent. Yet, the rise in the cost of all food was held down to 40 per cent, due largely to the fact that the price of meat rose a mere 27 per cent during the same period. The U.S. housewife spends only 16 cents of every dollar earned on food -- against Canada's 20 cents, Italy's 37 cents, Spain's 43 cents and Soviet Russia's 50 cents.

IS YOUR HOME FOR SALE?
We at the SCHEARER AGENCY would like very much to discuss the conveyance of your property. NO OBLIGATION and ALL INFORMATION CONFIDENTIAL. Many times owners attempt to sell without the assistance of a REALTOR and are unsuccessful. However, it is generally agreed that a REALTOR serves you MONEY, TIME, and LEGAL ENTANGLEMENTS. It may surprise you too, to know that many buyers, especially those coming from large cities prefer to buy through a Realtor. The owner-seller seldom can weed out the lookers from the buyers and frequently spends time showing their home to curiosity seekers. We at the SCHEARER AGENCY are able to bring only qualified buyers genuinely interested in purchasing your home. We also eliminate those whose interests may only be in renting, buying on contract or asking you, the seller, to carry a second mortgage. Last, but not least, we are constantly in touch with families that we know are coming to Warren and generally make appointments for them to see our LISTED HOMES before they know an UNLISTED HOME is for sale. If you have a home for sale now or plan to sell in the near future PLEASE call and ask for our opinion on the sale of your property.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

The bidding:

1 ♠ 1 ♦ Pass Pass
1 ♥ Pass 3 ♥ Pass
4 ♥ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: King of ♦

Failure to map out his campaign in advance caused South, the declarer at four hearts, to end up with nine tricks on a deal where he could have taken 11.

West opened the king of diamonds and continued with the queen which South ruffed. Two rounds of trump were pulled and when West showed out on the second lead, discarding a diamond, the queen of hearts was permitted to remain outstanding.

The ace and king of clubs were played next and a spade was discarded from dummy. A third club was ruffed with the four of hearts as all hands followed suit. The closed hand was reentered by trumping a diamond and South now had seven tricks in the ace, king of hearts, two diamond ruffs in his hand, the ace, king of clubs and one club ruff in dummy.

If declarer leads a spade at this point and finesses the queen, he will score two more tricks in that suit and then he must make one trick in trumps inasmuch as North retains the nine-seven of hearts. South chose, however, to ruff a fourth club in dummy and now he exited with a small spade. East alertly put up the ten of spades which held the trick. He drew the last trump with the queen of hearts and led the jack of diamonds for the setting trick.

Even after South fails to play spades from his hand, he can still recover by getting out of dummy with a heart instead of a spade. Since West discarded one diamond early in the deal, the defense can cash only one diamond and then must play spades themselves, allowing declarer to take a belated finesse in that suit for his 10th trick. He loses two diamonds and one heart.

Proper technique would have permitted South to score an overtrick on the deal. He may, if he wishes, try the spade finesse first. When this succeeds, he comes back to the ace of clubs and trumps a club. The closed hand is reentered with the king of hearts to ruff a third club. The ace of hearts puts South in again and now he cashes the king of clubs, dropping the queen and establishing his long card in that suit. The five of spades is discarded from dummy. The seven of clubs is played on which North sheds the seven of spades and East may ruff or not as he chooses. The opposition is restricted to one diamond and one heart.

Shapp Sees No Relationship Between Property Taxes And Education

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shapp said Wednesday there is no relationship between the value of real estate being taxed and the cost of education.

"There is no correlation between the value of a ghetto tenement and the cost of giving the children living there the kind of educational tools needed to escape that way of life," Shapp said. "Nor is there a correlation between the value of homes in a restricted suburb and the cost of educating children living in those homes."

Shapp commented on a ruling by the California State Supreme Court this week which struck down local property taxes as a means of financing public schools on the grounds it creates inequities between rich and poor school districts. The court held this means children are not getting equal protection guaranteed by the 14th Amendment.

The governor did not take sides on the ruling, which is binding only in California. However, he suggested it was a sign of growing discontent within the various systems of taxation nationwide.

"The real estate tax is a regressive tax, hitting the poor harder than the rich," said the multimillionaire governor. "Essentially, property taxation, although a necessity, is a bad tax in our present system. It is an outmoded tax, but I don't see any way it can be avoided in the foreseeable future even if it is recognized to be a regressive tax."

Shapp favors a National Education Trust Fund through which federal money could be channeled to pay for education. He says this could be done by using a form of income tax in much the same manner as federal gasoline tax funds pay for the interstate roads through the federal Highway Trust Fund.

The income tax, which became state law Tuesday in Pennsylvania, "is one tax which can be shown to have a direct correlation to the level of education of an individual,"

GOP Wants Barbieri Back On Ballot

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Republican State Committee decided Wednesday to appeal to two courts in an effort to get Supreme Court Justice Alexander F. Barbieri on the Constitutional Party ballot in the November election to succeed himself.

The committee asked State Supreme Court to overturn a Commonwealth Court order which prohibited Republican Barbieri from becoming an added starter on the Constitutional ticket.

The committee also said it would ask Commonwealth Court to hear reargument before the full seven-member court. This could prevent some problems since one member of Commonwealth Court, Judge Louis Manderino, is a Democratic candidate for Supreme Court.

Barbieri, as a member of the Supreme Court, would disqualify himself when the appeal is heard before that court.

Commonwealth Court Judge Harry A. Kramer ruled Monday that Barbieri violated the state Election Code by crossfiling and ordered Commonwealth Secretary C. DeLores Tucker to strike his name from the Constitutional ballot in November.

Barbieri and Franklin County Judge George C. Eppinger were unopposed on the Republican ballot in the May primary and Eppinger also picked up write-in votes on the Constitutional ballot. This qualified him to run on both the Constitutional and GOP tickets in November.

Also qualifying for the Constitutional ballot in November was Allegheny County Judge Robert Van der Voort, who ran

Police Start Extradition Proceedings

KANE — Wayne Chapman, 23, of Jamestown, N. Y., wanted here in connection with a recent child molesting incident, was picked up by city police in Jamestown on a warrant issued by local police and has refused to return voluntarily. Police Chief R. A. Fisher said Tuesday morning he is starting extradition proceedings.

Chapman is charged with luring two local boys to an adjacent area park with a promise of $4 to take their pictures. He was reported to have one or two cameras at the time. One small lad went home, the other was apparently afraid not to pose for the pictures. When he told his story to his parents, police were notified and began an immediate investigation.

Among charges filed is corrupting the morals of a minor.

Jamestown Phone Workers On Strike

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. — Mass picketing began in front of Jamestown Telephone Corp.'s headquarters, 201 E. Fourth st. early Wednesday, as about 200 company employees went on strike.

The employees contract expired at midnight, and negotiations for a new contract have been unsuccessful thus far.

The last known offer by the company was turned down by a vote of 194 to 4.

The union is seeking a one-year agreement with a new pension plan, double time for Sunday work and multiple vacation and fringe benefits.

Man Jailed For Stabbing Attorney

EMPORIUM — A 54-year-old Emporium man is in Cameron County Jail awaiting a preliminary hearing on charges of felony, according to borough police.

James Leroy Streich was arraigned before District Magistrate Alvin Brown Tuesday afternoon on a charge of assault with intent to kill after he allegedly stabbed Attorney John E. Rydesky three times, once in the left arm and twice in the back with a bone-handled hunting knife. Personnel from a nearby store went to the attorney's aid, summoned police and took the wounded man to the office of Dr. J. L. Hackett for treatment.

Rydesky later received additional treatment at Andrew Kaul Memorial Hospital, St. Marys but was released to his home in satisfactory condition.

Streich was remanded to jail in lieu of $1,000 bail and a preliminary hearing will be set within 10 days, police said.

Documentary Film Made In Hyndman

HYNDMAN, Pa. (AP) — A team of filmmakers from the National Educational Television Network (NET) were in this rural Bedford County village Wednesday on a unique mission — to make a documentary about death.

According to one member of the team, Dinitia McCarthy whose grandmother resides here, the purpose of the film will be to record death in an American family; the funeral, interment and reactions of the family and friends.

The filmmakers said they were depending on the cooperation of local families in their project.

Solons Expected To Receive Additional Expense Checks Shortly

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's 202 representatives and 50 senators were expected to receive additional expense checks shortly — a $300-a-month increase they voted themselves in June.

The law says the increase was to have begun July 1, but because of the Commonwealth's financial bind it was delayed.

But there still appears to be some doubt among federal economics personnel about the additional disbursement in view of the 90-day wage-price freeze that became effective Aug. 15.

State and federal officials got together Tuesday and reportedly resolved the economic issue in favor of the legislators.

Principals in the talks at the Capitol were Robert Stevens, Atlantic regional director of the Office of Economic Preparedness, and Ronald Lench, secretary of administration. Lench said afterward that Stevens said he didn't have dates of the increase at hand when he told newsmen in Pittsburgh hours earlier that the expense increase might be affected by President Nixon's freeze.

Lench indicated at that time the matter was resolved.

However, James E. Quinn, assistant director of the Internal Revenue Service in Pittsburgh, said Wednesday he had since talked with Stevens by phone and that as far as he was concerned nothing appeared to have been resolved.

"The question of the freeze (as it pertains to legislator's increased expense accounts) has been forwarded to Mr. Steven's office in Philadelphia where it will be studied," Quinn said. "No doubt, it will go on to Washington where a decision will be made at the national level concerning state legislators."

Stevens was reported in Scranton on business and was unavailable for comment.

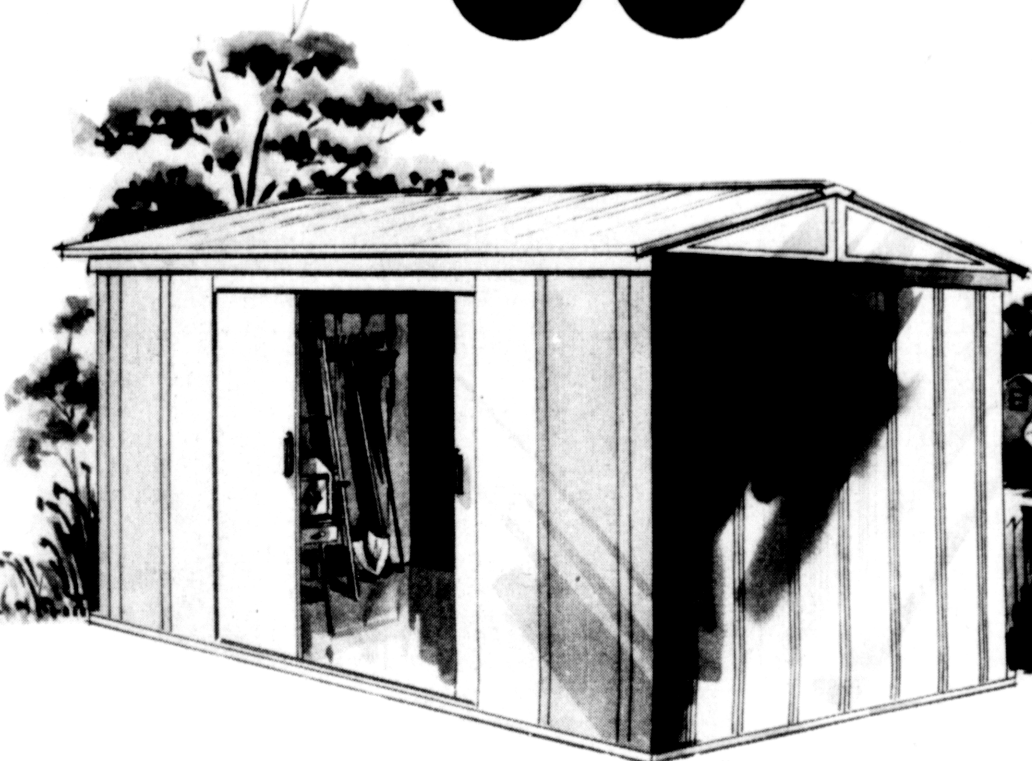

Lench was also out of town. Anthony May, Gov. Shapp's press secretary, said the Commonwealth was satisfied that the increased expense payment met with President's Nixon's guidelines, adding he had heard nothing further from federal officials after Tuesday's talks.

Elijah Boat Launch On Reservoir Opens For Public Use Today

The newly constructed Elijah Boat Launch site on the Allegheny Reservoir, located just south of Dewdrop Camp ground, will be officially open for public use on Thursday, Sept. 2. According to Allegheny National Forest Supervisor Ralph H. Freeman, the timely opening of this critically needed area should fill a big void in meeting the demand for better boat launch facilities on the "South and West side" of the Allegheny Reservoir.

Opening of the new facility is expected to relieve the tremendous pressure received the past two years at the small launch site in the Dewdrop Campground. Although the Dewdrop launch was originally intended as a temporary facility, said Freeman, the area will remain open but only for individuals camping at Dewdrop which have smaller boats.

The new Elijah site has four launch lanes and will be able to accommodate almost 160-car-trailer parking units. Operated free of charge, it will provide a much safer and functional facility than the smaller temporary launch at Dewdrop. All boats trailing larger craft (16 feet and above) including campers at Dewdrop will be encouraged to use the new Elijah site.

According to Freeman, the area will not have docks ready for use as a part of the opening. The low water levels of the Reservoir are at a point usually encountered in late September or early October. Freeman stressed people must realize this has been an extremely dry year and that facilities such as docks, beaches and launching ramps are only practical to design and install for the average year. He continued by saying that under the present situation only two of the four lanes at the new Elijah site will be usable at the present Reservoir water level.

Freeman further advised that if the reduction of the Reservoir pool level continues it will only be a matter of a couple weeks or so before some of the other Forest Service sites will become inoperable. Area boaters should keep a close watch on the Reservoir pool level. The following Forest Service sites are no longer usable when the Reservoir level drops below the following elevations:

Willow Bay	1299.0'
Roper Hollow	1295.0'
Dewdrop	1293.0'
Kiasutha	1308.0'
Webbs Ferry	1303.0'
Elijah	1298.0'

The reported low level point for Wolf Run Marina's cement launch ramp has been shown as 1316.0'. This ramp is now inoperable. A substitute gravel ramp is being used at the present time.

As a closing reminder Supervisor Freeman said that the lower Reservoir level does in fact reduce the overall size of water area available to boaters. "The best approach to enjoying the Labor Day weekend will be an outing based on common sense, safety and courtesy," he concluded.

You'll Owe State Money-- If You Don't Pay More Now

HARRISBURG (AP)—State Revenue Secretary Robert P. Kane said Wednesday Pennsylvania wage earners would owe the Commonwealth money April 15 unless they requested an increased withholding rate for the new income tax.

The new levy taxes 2.3 per cent of gross income. But since it's retroactive to June 1, and collection won't start until this month, a 2.3 per cent withholding rate this year would leave taxpayers with a deficit. The deficit would partially be offset, however, by credits for money paid under the now unconstitutional 3.5 per cent income levy.

Kane told a news conference that employers would only be required to withhold 2.3 per cent from paychecks.

The State would begin withholding for its 110,000 employees Sept. 8, he said.

Some 4½ to 5 million wage earners will pay the new tax, compared with 2.8 million who paid the old tax.

Kane said the 2.3 per cent levy would bring in $907.3 million in 1971-72, but the $135 million collected under the illegal tax must be subtracted from the total. Thus, the net yield for the state would be $772 million.

A companion measure to the tax bill could cost the state another $20 million. The legislation, still before the House, would exempt the aged, infirm, poor, disabled and persons under 18 from the tax.

If there's a court challenge to the new tax, it would probably be on these provisions, Shapp's counsel, Israel Packel, said this week.

The State Supreme Court ruled last June the original 3.5 per cent state income tax passed last March was graduated, violating a state constitutional ban on graduated taxation.

Young Voters Finding Detours To Ballot Box

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Newly enfranchised young people are finding detours on the road to the ballot box. The path is blocked in some communities by confusing registration rulings and local officials who are worried about the effects of student voting power.

Central to nationwide debate on the subject is the college student: is his place of residence for voting purposes the town in which he goes to school or the community in which his parents live?

The answer can have an important impact on the political makeup and social direction of towns where students sometimes outnumber permanent residents.

But an Associated Press survey showed a confusing variety of rulings on the subject. State officials in many areas simply issued no opinion at all and left the question up to local election boards.

An estimated 11.4 million persons became eligible to vote in all elections with the adoption of the 26th Amendment to the Constitution extending the franchise to any citizen 18 or over. Of these, students account for an estimated 4.9 million.

And it is about the latter that the controversy swirls. One body of opinion sees a danger in permitting students to vote and register in the place they go to school. Another body of opinion holds college students would be deprived of the right to vote if they had to do so at their parents' place of residence.

Some officials see college students "radicalizing" community legislative and administrative bodies because of their ability to outvote permanent residents in a number of towns.

Other officials see college students voting expensive programs for communities, then moving on after graduation and leaving permanent residents to foot the bill for something they may not have wanted in the first place.

One clue to the shape of things to come may be in rulings last Friday by the Supreme Courts in Michigan and California saying youthful voters have the option of registering in their college communities.

26 County Youths Scheduled For Pre-Induction Physicals

(TMO Harrisburg Bureau)

HARRISBURG—Although no actual draft induction calls are scheduled for the month of September for the second month in a row (pending congressional action on the Selective Service Act) local draft boards are proceeding with pre-induction physical examinations—with 26 Warren County youths scheduled to be called during the month. State Selective Service headquarters said today.

The 26 Warren County youths—all from Local Board 162, Warren—are due to report on September 16 for their pre-induction physicals.

The last pre-induction physical call was issued in July for the month of August, at which time only ten youths from the county were involved in the call.

Marijuana Worth $10,000 Confiscated

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Two persons were arrested and sheriff's deputies confiscated close to $10,000 worth of marijuana in a raid Wednesday on what authorities described as a major area marijuana distribution operation.

Deputies said they found 40-to-50 kilos of marijuana in a residence in nearby Robinson Township where they arrested Louis D. Walter, 21, of Wayne, N.J., and Patti Sue Hannah, 18, of Washington, Pa.

Sheriff Eugene Coon said his office had received information that a large shipment of marijuana was being sent here from Nebraska and that a stakeout finally resulted in Wednesday's pre-dawn raid.

Seized along with the marijuana, Coon said, was a scale and other paraphernalia used in packaging and distributing the drug.

Coon said the operation supplied marijuana to points in southwestern Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Walter and Miss Hannah were being held in the county jail on $10,000 and $2,500 bond respectively.
